

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

REPORTING FROM

DC

DC.SYR.EDU

Issue 01 | March 17, 2015

Join us!

Anniversary Open House

Tuesday, March 24, 2015

5–7 p.m.

Syracuse University Greenberg House

2301 Calvert Street NW, Washington, DC

Celebrate National Orange Day DC style, as we commemorate 25 years of the Paul Greenberg House and Syracuse's presence in the Capital region! Enjoy live jazz music, food from Syracuse's own Hofmann Sausage Company, giveaways, a photo booth, and more. All alumni, friends, and families are welcome. Get details.

Special feature

Alumni clubs “spring” into action

The Syracuse University Alumni Club of Washington, DC, and B'more Orange, the Syracuse University Alumni Club of Greater Baltimore, recently elected new officers and have exciting events planned for the spring. Meet the club presidents for each region—Natalie Clay '10 of Washington and Sarah Nelson-Balonis '05 of Baltimore—and get updates on coming events. Read more.

In the News

Hillary Rodham Clinton to deliver Toner Prize keynote

Former Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton will be the featured speaker at the Toner Prize for Excellence in Political Reporting award celebration, to be held March 23 in Washington. Presented annually by Syracuse University's Newhouse School, the award honors the memory of Robin Toner '76, the first woman to serve as national political correspondent for The New York Times. Read more.

DC alumni get powered up

See photos from Power Up DC, a special networking event and panel discussion held at Hotel Monaco on February 4, 2015. DC-area alumni and friends gathered to hear from some of SU's top leaders in the region—sharing advice on balancing career demands, family needs, and building that critical support network.

Chancellor Syverud visits DC

On December 2, 2014, more than 150 DC alumni, parents, prospective students, and friends gathered at the Carnegie Institution for Science for a reception with Chancellor Kent Syverud. Washington, DC, is one of nine cities the Chancellor visited last fall, to share his vision for Syracuse University and Fast Forward Syracuse, the University's new strategic initiative. See photos and event highlights.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY | WASHINGTON, DC

Greenberg House, 2301 Calvert Street, NW, Washington, DC 20008